

Mom's Camp

According to the US Census Bureau as of 2004 there were more than 10 million single moms living with children under the age of 18. The mom's camp is an opportunity for single moms or moms that just want to learn more about sports and what it means to their child. A panel with collegiate football and cheerleaders will address questions to moms with little or no knowledge about football and cheerleading. A speaker will also be in attendance to cover what it takes to support young men and women throughout their childhood when it comes to athletics. These moms will also be taught the fundamentals of football.
